Mel grew up in a "non horsey" family and from a young age annoyed her parents with the typical "I want a pony for my birthday." Her parents eventually gave in and let her start riding lessons at a local riding school and what they thought would be a novelty never wore off.

Years of travelling around the countryside to Pony Club, show jumping and Agricultural shows, she then ventured into the sport of dressage and a love of bringing out the best in each horse that comes into her stable and training.

Mel is an FEI rider and EA Level 1 Coach who enjoys coaching riders of all levels and ages who want to create a fun and enjoyable partnership with their horse as they train and progress. Mel is currently managing the Parbery Dressage stables in Penrose where she coaches and rides, as well as coaching clinics within Australia.
