

Protocol Judge Profile: Annabelle Warren

Annabelle is a highly respected member of the Australian dressage community with decades of experience as a rider, competitor and supporter of the sport.

Now based in Bathurst, she has successfully competed at FEI level on her much-loved gelding Timmy Almighty, with whom she enjoyed many memorable seasons in the competition arena. Together, the pair competed up to Grand Prix, earning recognition for their harmony, precision and especially their freestyle programs which were fun-filled performances at the highest level.

Annabelle is known for her passion for developing partnerships between horse and rider and ensuring that there is a smile and sense of achievement at the end of every session. As a Protocol Judge, she brings a keen eye for detail, a supportive and educational approach, and a commitment to helping riders gain valuable insights to guide their future training and competition goals.
